GCQuad – Registration Expired

Registration Expired Guide:

- Connect the GCQUAD directly to your internet router with an Ethernet cable and switch the unit on.
- Leave the Quad connected for approximately 120 seconds and then turn the unit off.
- Turn the unit back on again and verify that the notification "Registration Expired" is no longer present.
- Remove the unit from the router and check that the Quad can connect to FSX while recording the ball and club data.
- If the data is not present, connect the unit to the router and retry the steps above.
- If the unit does not verify, please contact support@foresightsports.eu and we will investigate further.

Considerations / Please note:

- The GCQuad will need to be connected to the internet once every 45 days, this can be done either through a connection to a router or by connecting the GCQuad to FSX.
- Some customers have experienced issues registering the GCQuad due to security settings on the router. Please try using a router at home if you experience this issue.
